

5 Reasons to get your car detailed REGULARLY

1 – PROTECT YOUR INVESTMENT

Detailing is like any other maintenance on car, it keeps the car looking its best and minimizes interior wear. Most people would never let the interior of their home get as dirty as the interior of their car, but think for a moment about the amount of time you spend in your car. You probably also eat and drink in your car, causing the inevitable spills. Just like anything else you maintain, it will last longer and have more value when it is taken care of.

2 – RESELL VALUE

When it comes to selling the car there is no doubt that a properly cared for car fetches more than one that just had the bare minimum to keep it going. When a prospective buyer comes to see your vehicle and it's been properly detailed they will more than likely know you have cared for the car they are about to buy.

3 - PREVENT INTERIOR ODOR

Interior odors can be caused from a number of things. Most of these causes are unavoidable. Running errands, driving to work, road trips and keeping the kids happy are things that happen in everyday life. One odor, which is avoidable but is easy to identify is cigarette smoke. Unfortunately, most people who smoke don't notice it as they are accustomed to it over time. If you do choose to smoke in your car it's more important than ever to regularly get the interior detailed.

4 – ALLERGIES & HEALTH

Pollen, dust and pet dander can build up in a car quickly. Someone who suffers from allergies can greatly benefit from interior detailing services. Although there is no way to prevent most allergens from entering the vehicle but keeping up with the cleanliness can prevent a major issue. Every person that gets in the car has different germs and bacteria. Every time they touch anything they transfer something to your car which continues to build up over time. Door handles, seats, dash and the center console areas are constantly touched contaminated. Giving your car's interior a good cleaning on a regular basis will keep you and your passengers healthier as well as looking and smelling better.

5 - PRIDE

A clean car looks better and makes you feel better when you're driving it. Driving a clean car raises your self-esteem and feel good about yourself. HAVE IT DETAILED AND SHOW IT OFF!
